HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following

CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO OCTOBER 14.

St. Louis Dispatch

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 13.—Three hundred and fifty Mormons, principally English, left Omaha yesterday for Utah and Wyoming.

The Legislature met yesterday and elected officers.

Louisville Commercial Convention.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 13.—In the Commercial Convention this morning, the Committee on Permanent organization reported a list of Vice Presidents and assistant Secretaries, one from each State. They also recommended the appointment of a standing committee on the Southern Pacific Railroad, and on railroads generally and on direct trade with Europe, as well as on various other subjects of interest to the South and West.

At the afternoon session of the Convention it was evident the Convention would not be entirely harmonious. Whenever anything important came up there was a disposition on the part of members to retard business. The only business done was to appoint a long list of standing committees. Resolutions declaring that the country sustained a great loss in the death of Franklin Pierce, and tendering to the surviving family the profound condolence of the American people, were adopted unanimously amid great applause. The Convention adjourned till to-morrow.

There will be an immense procession to-morrow and a grand concert at night.

New York News.

ALBANY, Oct. 13.—S. J. Tilden is chairman and William Cassidy secretary of the Democratic State Central Committee.

A locomotive and two cars were thrown from the track of the Susquehanna Railroad yesterday. Several passengers were injured.

Another fearful storm occurred here last night, accompanied by thunder and lightning. The rain fell in torrents and the streets were torn up. The docks this morning are flooded.

Fire and Loss of Life.

ROCHESTER, Oct. 13.—The lock-up in the village of Charlotte was destroyed by fire this morning and two persons confined therein were burned to death.

SCHUYLKILL HAVEN, Oct. 13.—Last night the signal tower of the Mine Hill Railroad took fire, burning to death the watchman, Owen Ferry and his two children. Ferry's sister in-law escaped by leaping from a window.

Election Returns.

COLUMBUS, OHIO, Oct. 13th.—The Ohio returns and opinions of both parties indicate that Hayes is elected by about three thousand. The House is Democratic and the Senate Republican. Democrats claim that the vote is so close it will require the official returns to decide the election for Governor. Independent Republicans from Hamilton county have the balance of power in the Legislature.

CINCINNATI, O., 13th.—Full returns from Hamilton county show Pendleton's majority to be 676. The fusion ticket elects two Democrat and two republican Senators, and five republican and five Democratic members of the House, with three Republican county officers by a majority of 2,000 to 2,500.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Oct 13th.—The State Senate stands Republican 63; Democrats 37. The City Committee have no data to indicate the majority in the State, but all the papers but one concede Geary's election by 5,000 to 10,000 majority. The Evening Bulletin has a Harrisburg dispatch that says leading State officials claim the election of Geary by at least 5,000. The Democratic State Central organ considers Packer defeated.

A New Secretary of War.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13th.—The President has appointed Major-General William M. Belknap of Keokuck, Iowa, Secretary of War. General Belknap served in the Army from the first to the last day of the late war, and commanded one of the divisions of the fifteenth Army corps in Sherman's last two campaigns, with great credit to himself and to the entire satisfaction of his superiors. He has been telegraphed to and will arrive here in a few days, when General Sherman will formally resign the position of Secretary of War, and General Belknap will enter on the duties of the office.

Recent operations of the Collector and Assessor of the 5th Virginia District have resulted in the discovery and suppression of forty-seven illicit distilleries hidden in the mountains, ravines and similar places, and in the destruction or confiscation of a large quantity of liquor.

A negro who outraged a young lady teacher near Fort Washington was taken from the custody of the officers on Monday and hanged to a tree.

Banquet to California Pioneers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—There was a banquet at Delmonico's to-night to the California Pioneers. One hundred and fifty were present. W. T. Coleman presided. Among the guests were C. D. Carter, Chairman of the Pioneers, William M. Tweed, J. W. Coffroth, of California, Senator Casserly, Horace Greeley, Jas. W. Simonton, James Brooks, Gen. McDowell, and Dr. W. A. Scott. Simonton read an eloquent letter from James McClathy, paying a high tribute to the magnanimity of New York, she being the first to show her readiness to admit California into the Union. Letters were also read from Govs Hoffman, Geary, Haight; Gens. Hooker, Sherman, Butterfield and others unable to be present. Gen. McDowell replied to the toast: "To the President of the United States;" Greeley and Senator Casserly to a toast on New York and San Francisco. The banquet was in every way a success.

Tennessee Legislature.

NASHVILLE, Oct. 13.—The Legislature to-day ignored the election of a public printer by the last Legislature, and took steps to elect a new one. It also resolved to go into an election of United States Senator on the 18th inst. Johnson is not so strong as a week ago. Knowing men assert that he will be beaten. Senter's message grows in favor. His financial views will probably be accepted by the Legislature. The conservative papers favor affording this administration credit for the speedy reduction of the interest on the public debt. Public feeling is cheerful and buoyant at the prospects for the future.

General Telegrams.

TROY, Oct. 13.—Another great storm and freshet occurred here.

SARATOGA, Oct. 13.—A heavy rain has fallen in the last thirty four hours, injuring the roads of all kinds and stopping the trains.

MUSCATINE, Oct. 13.—A boiler exploded at Chamber's planing mill this afternoon. Four persons were injured; two boys, it is feared, fatally.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 13.—The total collections of Internal Revenue in this District for September are $70,000 in excess of the same month last year.

The Result in Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—The Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee has received dispatches from all but nine counties, and with an estimate on a good basis for the balance, says that Geary's majority will not be far from 4,000.

Dr. Livingston—Case of the Hornet.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—A Herald special, dated Bombay, Oct. 11, says Mr. Kirk received a letter from Dr. Livingston, dated 15th July, 1868, in which the Doctor informs him that he believes he has discovered the sources of the Nile at a point between 10° and 12° south.

The United States gunboat Frolic arrived at Wilmington on Monday. Her commander notified Commodore Higgins, of the Hornet, not to leave port until his case had been decided on, and he said he had instructions from the President to prevent his departure. The case of the Hornet came before Commodore Rutherford on Monday. Higgins made an affidavit that the ship was purchased by the Cuban Republic outside of the jurisdiction of the United States after she had cleared from a British port. The counsel for the Government asked for a delay until Saturday, which was granted.

Virginia Affairs.

RICHMOND, VA., Oct. 14.—General Canby is said to intend to modify his order postponing the appointment of railroad proxies, which is very obnoxious to Governor Walker. It is further said that a committee of Conservatives waited on Gen. Sherman and requested him to direct Gen. Canby to change the order, and General Sherman agreed to do so.

A fusion of the Walker and Wells Republicans, in the Virginia Legislature, is contemplated in order to secure the election of Senators against the Conservatives. Lieutenant Governor Lewis and Mr. Stearns are the choice of the proposed coalition.

Admiral Farragut Sinking.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Admiral Farragut commenced sinking at five o'clock last evening and continued to sink slowly until midnight, when it was not believed he would survive the night. About one o'clock, however, he began to rally and is much better this morning, though his recovery is extremely doubtful. His wife and son are with him.

There was a race yesterday at the Dexter driving park. Pilot Temple, Angeline Rocky and Silas Rich being the contestants. The Judges awarded the race to Pilot Temple in three straight heats, time, 2 29 and 2 30. Much indignation is expressed at the decision, Pilot Temple running a great portion of each heat, and driving foul in the first heat.

Result in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 15.—Carefully revised and complete returns from this county gives Pendleton 1,367 majority. The fusion ticket, composed equally of Republicans and Democrats, elects four Senators, ten members of the House and six county officers, by an average of 2,200 majority over the regular Republican ticket.

BANGOR, Oct. 14.—Capt. Geo. Wentworth, arrested for rape on the high seas had a hearing which resulted in fully committing him for trial in the United States District Court.

Dispatch from Nevada, Cal.

NEVADA, Cal., Oct. 14.—Geo. Reese and Geo. Tucker were caved on and killed in the San Jose Company's mine in Bourbon hill about 4 o'clock this afternoon. Reese leaves a wife and two children. He had his life insured for $2,500. Tucker has no family.

Miscellaneous.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—A. T. Stewart has not bought the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

ALBANY, Oct. 13.—The dwelling of C. F. Bolter was burned this morning and a young woman burned to death in it.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 13.—Col. W. A. McDillop has been nominated for Comptroller by the Republican State Convention.

Advices from St. Domingo of Sept. 25th state that the war is going on in the interior with vigor.

At Cuaracoa a severe shock of an earthquake was felt Sept. 17th, creating great terror.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

PARIS, Oct. 13.—The official Journal has the following news: Several public reunions have been announced to take place here and disorder threatens the Government. However, it will enforce the law by authorizing the suppression of all public meetings of a character calculated to disturb the peace. The Patrie denies that the Government intends to suspend the right of reunion. It says the Government simply desires to give a warning that it will act with energy should the public meetings degenerate into provocations of insurrection.

Charles Augusta Saint Beuve, the eminent critic and poet and Senator of France, died to-day, aged 65 years.

The Patrie is informed that the Sultan will go to Europe to preside at the inauguration of the Suez Canal. Puerto Queritere, Deputy to the Corps Legislatif, addressed a public meeting at Rouen last evening. He advocated the abolition of commercial treaties on the ground that they are incompatible with the government of the country by the country.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Lord Derby's condition is much worse to-day. He has been insensible for several hours.

The Times to-day has an editorial on Spanish affairs. The writer has but little sympathy for and less faith in Spanish Republicanism or the future of the present Government in Spain, ...ly prolonging the provisional government and in the attempt to close it out when it has become impossible to do so. There is no King forthcoming, and it is better to leave matters as they are. The Regency is the only possible scheme. When it is understood how dangerous questions will be dormant, a change in Government will be indefinitely adjourned. Steps may now be made towards the conciliation of two parties. Castellar, Figueras and others, are not formidable adversaries and may be useful as friends. They are avowed Republicans but men of order. We might easily regard the Regency as a half-way house, less objectionable than a monarchy, less dangerous than a Republic. Prim leans this way. Between him and Castellar union is possible. A Government in which Castellar would represent freedom and Prim order and authority, might afford a sufficient guarantee of its honest views and a tendency to satisfy all reasonable people.

MADRID, Oct. 13.—The railroad in the vicinity of Valentia has been destroyed. A fight took place near the spot, in which 260 men were killed or wounded on both sides.

The troops of the garrison of Madrid were reviewed to-day by General Prim.

Government officials declare that the rebellion is dying out. Republicans contradict them and maintain that it is increasing. Interruptions of communication render it difficult to obtain information from the provinces, but no doubt the insurrection extends throughout the country. The Cortes has appointed a committee to inquire into the conduct of deputies supposed to be with the insurgents and report the action taken in their cases. The insurgents, who were defeated with such heavy loss at Saragossa, were under the leadership of Salnave, Heron and Franklina. Martial law has been proclaimed in Malaga. Many families have fled to Tangiers. Valentia still resists the Government arms, but there is reason to believe that capitulation is imminent. Government troops are entrenched at Valentia and await reinforcements before making the final attack. A frigate is anchored off the city and will assist the troops in the assault.

The Meaning of Immigration

There is a profound lesson in the present unprecedented influx of people into the United States from the different countries of Europe. This movement is a general one, and every nation in the north of Europe is pouring forth its multitudes to swell the tide of population landing on our shores. "Of all surface indications," says an Eastern journal discussing this subject, "nothing is more convincing of the prosperity of a country than the influx of immigration. Men and women do not leave home, friends, and other surroundings, to go into a land of strangers, particularly if the language, manners, and customs are different from those they leave, unless impelled by the very strongest inducements. When, therefore, we find that the rush of foreigners to our shores for the quarter ending June 30th, 1869, is greater than for any other similar period since the foundation of the Government, we are driven to the conclusion that this drift is caused by the super-abundant advantages which America offers to labor. Few of those who come here are persons of capital in the ordinary sense of the term. True, each brings a little hoard, on the average about $68 in coin, but this is a small part of his value to the nation of which he becomes a member. He comes into a country of boundless resources, where labor in any capacity develops wealth. We want him, we need him. But he does not come in obedience to such requisitions; it is because he feels that he can better himself. The conditions which make this possible show our prosperity as a nation. As almost every laborer who comes to us from foreign countries is at first a daily laborer, or a mechanic who hires out his services, it is plain that the competition for the sale of labor is here great, causing its compensation to be large and remunerative as compared with that received in Europe. Why should this be a state of facts? Because there is a wide diversification of productive pursuits. Why is there such a diversification? Because we have a tariff which protects native industry, and thus compels labor to come to our shores for employment, not us to go to abroad for the purchase of products. It is, therefore, a significant fact that the tide of immigration has risen and fallen in exact proportion to the application of the principal of free trade or protection. When the latter has been ascendant, the influx has been great; when the former has been ascendant the influx has been small. Thus, under the first protective tariff, that of 1828, immigration grew from 14,000 to 78,000 per annum. Under the second tariff, that of 1842, it rose from 74,000, to 300,000. Before the present tariff was adopted, the number of immigrants had dwindled to less than 100,000 a year; now they are coming at the extraordinary rate of 600,000. Such striking facts as these are most instructive to ponder.

Hall's Arctic Journey.

We print to-day a very interesting letter by Capt. Hall, in which he describes in outline the results of his long journey to the Arctic regions. In his opinion the loss of Sir John Franklin's party was due wholly to the treachery of the natives, who left the party without provisions or means of getting them. He declares the result of his researches in relation to Franklin to be briefly this: Beyond a doubt Franklin actually discovered the Northwestern Passage. On his previous voyages he had sailed eastward as far as Cape Herschel, and now we have shown that he reached the same point going westward, and thus completed the chain of communication. To him, therefore, belongs the honor of having made the discovery, though Captain McClure has received the reward offered by the British government to the person who should succeed in the effort. Capt. Hall would have made his last voyage still longer than it was, could he have induced the native Esquimaux to accompany him, but when he had gone so far north that his compasses became useless, they refused to go further, and the party were forced to return. He thinks that steam can be used in Arctic explorations, the west coast of Greenland furnishing ample supplies of coal, and with steam he thinks the Northwest Passage might be made in a single season.

From New York to Oregon

A correspondent wishes to learn the probable cost of emigrant fares from New York to Oregon, across the continent. We have not exact data on the subject, but can make a statement which we think will approximate nearly to correctness. Railroad fares of the second class from New York to Omaha are about thirty dollars in currency, and from Omaha to San Francisco about fifty dollars. Add sixteen dollars in currency for fare by steamer from San Francisco to Portland, and we have an aggregate of ninety-six dollars, currency, from New York to Oregon. This is exclusive of expenses for meals while on the cars. These expenses may be large or small, according to the means or inclination of the parties. They need not, however, be so large as to carry the whole cost of coming from New York to Oregon by this route higher than one hundred and twenty-five dollars in currency. Our correspondent knows of quite a number of people in Germany who wish to come here, but who want to know before starting what the trip will cost them after reaching New York. We think the figures we have given may be relied upon as large enough to cover all necessary expenditure.

A First Rate Notice of Andrew Johnson.—The following notice of Andrew Johnson is from the Memphis Avalanche of Sept. 14th:

Mr Johnson is without influence for good wherever he is well known—in East Tennessee as well as at Washington. The radicalism of his old constituents is easily accounted for. During a quarter of a century he taught them a few silly conceits about "Jacob's ladder," "the converging lines," and the coming "millennium," when the "lion and the lamb should lie down together." He likewise made war on learning and the institutions of learning, while he arrayed as best he could, the poor against the rich. Many of the people of upper East Tennessee were believers in his wild theories, but they were harmless in times of peace. The war however gave full play to the passions he had nursed; it furnished an ample field for enforcing the leveling ideas he had so persistently taught. Wise and good men at the time, laughed at his apparently harmless dogmas, but at last we have before us the bitter fruits of his persistent nonsense. Thank Heaven, the extent of his noxious influence is circumscribed. It will soon wholly disappear, and the time is not distant when the mountaineers will heartily despise the teachings and the doctrines which made them what they are. Mr Johnson's influence is a myth. * * * He comes whining before the Conservative Legislature; it is to that body he would pour out his lament, and exhibit his supposed wounds. But he ought to remember that there is scarcely one public man in the State of real honesty and character who cannot show wounds inflicted by him during the time he was deputy monarch of the State; nor is there one in a hundred who does not attribute the ruin of the State during the last four years to that system of misgovernment which he of his own choice, forced upon the State in a mere spirit of wantonness.

BY STATE TELEGRAPH

The State Fair at Salem.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.

FOURTH DAY

Salem, Oct. 14.—The common estimate of the number of people at the fair to-day is 10,000. There are fully that many. Almost every county in the State is represented among the visitors. The men who inaugurated the State Agricultural Society and have borne the burdens of supporting it are greatly delighted with the success of this fair. It is really creditable not only to them but to the State at large.

The awarding committees have been hard at work all day in passing upon competing articles. In some of the departments their work is scarcely half done yet, so great is the number of entries. Washington, Yamhill, Lane and Linn counties have carried off most of the horse premiums, though Multnomah gets in a few. Yamhill gets the greatest number of premiums on cattle. The display of competing animals was excellent. It is doubtful if the Pacific coast ever turned out a better show of fine horses of all classes than was seen here to-day.

The races to-day were rather interesting from the fact that the contestants were all colts. The first race was a trot, mile heats, two best in three, for a premium of $75, open to all Oregon bred three year old colts. The entries were William Ward's Black Bess and James Bates' Billy Fifer. The latter won in two straight heats in 3 26¼ and 3 26½. The latter heat was good time. Billy Fifer is a Morgan colt. The second race was between Oregon bred four year olds, mile heats, two in three, for a premium of $75. The entries were Richmond's Richmond and Smiley's Mystery. The race was won by Richmond in two straight heats in 3 09½ and 3 04½.

The receipts of the fair exceed $8,000. There are numerous fresh arrivals to-day and a few departures.

Senator Corbett and wife will start to-morrow overland to California and thence to Washington.

Letter from Olympia

Olympia, W. T., Oct. 12, 1869.

Editor Oregonian:

Nothing has been done in either House of the Legislative Assembly since last Friday. A joint convention was to have been held last Saturday for the election of Territorial officers, but Dunn and Clark, the Republican sorehead members, fearing the election of Garfielde men, broke the quorum in the Council and secreted themselves so the Sergeant at Arms could not discover their whereabouts. These fellows undoubtedly prompted by the Chief Justice and other prominent officials, are bent upon defeating the will of the people and continuing the present Copperhead incumbents in office, sooner than suffer the election of true blue Republicans. They are getting to be perfect monomaniacs on the subject of Garfielde and his friends. No measure can be introduced, no legislation proposed, but they discover in it some covert scheme to aid Mr Garfielde. He seems to haunt them by day and by night, and like Banquo's ghost will not "down." It is mortifying and humiliating to see these officials, holding office under a Republican administration, in close communion with the Walla Walla delegation and the whole pack of malignant Copperhead politicians, behind bolts and blankets, in dark alleys and corners, and at all hours of the night, conspiring to oust duly elected Republican representatives from their seats and thus throw the political destinies of the Territory into the hands of the Democracy.

The House of Representatives was engaged during the last week in determining the contest between Hon A S Miller and L J. Williamson, both claiming the right to the seat from Kitsap county. I understand that the former obtained his seat upon the ground that the latter had entirely failed in complying with the provisions of the law governing contests.

It is a matter of congratulation, that perfect harmony exists between the sixteen Republicans forming a majority in the lower House. It is rumored that tempting offers have been made to some of them, but they stand their ground and vote down in a solid unit all measures proposed by the Democrats for the purpose of disorganizing and creating discord in the ranks of the Republican party.

A bill has been introduced in the Council changing the terms of holding the Supreme Court and certain District Courts. According to its provisions the Supreme Court will be held on the second Monday of January, 1870, the District Court at Vancouver on the 2d Monday of December, to continue four weeks unless sooner adjourned, and a special term of the District Court at Walla Walla on the second Monday of December. One of the members of the Legislature informs me that the bill will probably become a law, provided that the soreheads will condescend to reproduce their "jumping jacks" in the Council, so that a quorum can be obtained.

Business continues brisk. Steamers from all portions of the Sound are arriving and departing nearly every day with freight and passengers. Real estate is constantly increasing in value and everybody is hopeful.

Ditch Property in Montana.—A Montana paper, the Deer Lodge City Independent, has the following curious statistics:

Although but in the infancy of its development, the ditch enterprise of Deer Lodge county deserves more than a passing notice at the hands of any writer who claims to speak for Montana. Commencing at Blackfoot, the traveler comes upon a perfect network of ditches, to be crossed at every turn. These are mostly small ditches, built by miners for their own use. Their aggregate cost amounts to from $75,000 to $100,000. Next we come to Washington gulch, where there is one large ditch and several smaller ones. The value of this property is not less than $60,000. At Nevada creek, Jefferson, and McClellan, there is one long ditch and several smaller ones. Their aggregate value is $30,000. At Lincoln there are three important ditches, their value is not less than $55,000. In Elk and Bear gulches there are $20,000 worth of ditches. In Henderson gulch and vicinity there are three important ditches, which cost not less than $10,000.

In Gold Creek vicinity is the ditch fairly entitled to the appellation of the banner ditch of Montana. The Rock Creek ditch is eleven miles long, and has a carrying capacity of over 2,000 inches. It leads to gold beds which twenty years' labor will not exhaust. It has one of the finest reservoirs above its source in the world. This natural reservoir is a lake two miles in length, with an average width of one half mile, and of unknown depth. A 5-24th interest of this ditch sold lately for 18,750 in cash, and was considered very cheap at that. Aside from this ditch, in the same neighborhood are four other important ditches, together with numerous small and unimportant ones. The value of ditch property in this region alone may be reasonably put down at $200,000.

Bordering upon this valley are numerous ditches, among which are the Cariboo ditch, the Allport ditch and the Prairie gulch ditch. At the head of the valley in the Silver Bow country, the energy of our people is displayed in many stupendous undertakings. Here we have the Humphreys and Allison ditch, the Divide Creek ditch of Barnard & C. and many other important ones. Here is where they make the mountains bow their crests for the accommodation of man. One enterprise to conduct in the waters of the Boulder comprehends a tunnel through the solid mountain of 1,700 feet long, which is nearly done. The value of ditch property in this region cannot fall much short of $150,000.

Highland, French, and German gulches are well supplied with ditches. French gulch alone having no less than six ditches. Space forbids our particularizing all the various enterprises, and allotting the special credit in many cases deserved for perseverance in pushing forward these works in the face of adverse climate and distressing scarcity of means.

Great Literary Project.—It is announced that a literary undertaking of vast extent has been projected by a society of authors in Paris, having for its object the reproduction of all the masterpieces of literature which have appeared in ancient and modern times. The title of the work is the "Bibliothèque Internationale Universelle," and it is to consist of two hundred volumes in large octavo, to be issued at the rate of two volumes each month, at an unprecedented low price to subscribers. The works reprinted are to be in the best French translations and are to appear on a prescribed plan in order to show how primitive ideas have been developed into organized formations and produced reactions upon spheres beyond their own. The French Government has recognized the importance of the work, and has approved its publication, and many eminent men have promised their co-operation.

THE STATE FAIR

THIRD DAY

Salem, Oct. 13, 1869.

The weather has been to-day bright, clear and warm, and this has contributed largely to the unprecedented success of the Third day. The assemblage at the grounds has grown constantly larger from the hour of opening, but at no time more rapidly than during the day. At evening it is no uncommon thing to see arrivals of teams a dozen or more at a time, whose passengers have not been here before. The boat from Portland on the river has just arrived with another large passenger list to add to the already large crowd of people who know not where they are to lay their heads to-night. The grounds are in fine condition, without either mud or dust, and all seem really to be enjoying the fair—something that I never knew one of them to admit before.

AGRICULTURAL MACHINERY

The display in this department is most cheering to those who best understand the material interests of the State. There are no less than a dozen different patents of gang plows, some of which were here last year, others being new. The Mason patent, which took the first premium last year, is again here with patented improvements. Mr J. W. Lewis of Oregon City has his Webfoot and Pfiel gangs, the former improved and supplied with a self clearing coulter and with such adjustments as make it equally efficient in sod or stubble ground. He has here no less than five different styles of gangs which he has patents for, or has made for other patentees. There are several who come in with patents dated in 1869. Among these is one by Duval & Bush of Salem, which is adjusted to make the team lift the plow out of the ground, by means of a simple brake on the wheels. This is the only one I think which makes the team do this, the others requiring the force to be exercised by the driver. But it has this disadvantage that the team must move forward or the plow cannot be raised out of the ground. Some of the others have such an adjustment as enable the driver to raise the gang whether the team be moving or standing. I ascertained the cost of manufacturing some of the gangs on exhibition. Mason's Improved cannot be sold for much less than $100; Duval's, with subsoil plow added $100, Sebring's patent (Dallas) $100, J. W. Lewis' Webfoot, $85, Pfiel gang, $75, Pfiel sulkey $64, Funk's patent, $75, most of the others, from $75 to $100.

My belief is that Mason's "Challenge," and the Pfiel gang will be more used than any other, considering the cost, strength, simplicity of adjustment, etc., though several others are certainly very effective in their operations. I can tell better when the plowing trial shall come off, on Friday.

OTHER OREGON INVENTIONS

There is under the shed a collar stuffer, invented and patented by George W. Hobart, of Silverton, which works most satisfactorily—cost about $100.

The "Oregon Header," a harvesting machine for four horses, patented by A. F. Cherry of Linn county, has proved to be an excellent worker. The cutting apparatus is driven before the horses, and the machine is steered and managed by one man, the driver. It cuts a swath ten or twelve feet wide, and can be adjusted to the height of grain without stopping. It costs about $400.

There are several other harvesting machines of either Oregon invention or manufacture. The threshers on exhibition are of eastern make. Hunter's Improved Grain Separator is a California invention, made and exhibited by Mr F Steese of Salem, agent for Oregon and Washington. It is simple in construction, can be operated by a small boy and it does its work in the most perfect manner, cleaning the grain from all foul seed, oats, or chaff. It costs only $15 to $45—according to the size. It will be found a valuable machine in preparing wheat for seeding.

The model of a combined sower, harrow and cultivator, is shown by Mr Funk, the inventor. It will be admirably adapted to farmers use, if it do not cost too much. There are two or three grain sowers of Oregon invention. I will mention these more particularly after their trial.

I see also a number of cider mills and presses, walking plows of new patents, straw cutters, mowers, reapers, and numerous other machines and implements that are common to the farm.

Somebody has a fern exterminator—a long blade of steel, bent at the middle so as to have the shape of an old fashioned three cornered harrow. The blade is sharp and is intended to go through the ground like a knife, at any given depth, and to sever the roots with which it may meet. It is said to work well.

In the pavilion I met with numerous washing machines of new and old patents, a great variety of sewing machines, some of them proved and good and others only calculated to make money for the vendors and to ruin the tempers of the buyers, and a considerable variety of small machines for the shop or household.

I find here a very simple invention, but one which must be popular with the ladies. A metallic clothes line. It is simply a wire galvanized, so that no action of weather, alkali or salt can affect it. It may be put up out of doors and allowed to remain for years, cannot be loaded so as to break, will never stain the clothes, the clothes cannot freeze to it, it does not take up and let out like a rope by being wetted or dried. It costs only about 3 cts per foot, and one line will last a lifetime. Mr J. H. McCulloch of Harrisburg, is agent for the State, and Mr P. T. Brock, who exhibits it, agent for this and Linn counties.

WAGONS AND CARRIAGES

There is a splendid show of Oregon made lumber and freight wagons, hacks, express wagons, buggies and carriages, as well as a first rate lot of California made carriages. A lumber wagon made by Mr Duval of Salem, is a regular beauty in form and finish. Another by Mr C Bowie of Aumsville, in this county, is much admired. A number of Oregon made buggies are handsome and apparently strong, but I did not learn the names of makers.

FURNITURE

Messrs Parmenter & Babcock, of Salem, have on exhibition a bedroom set of Oregon ash which attracts much attention and comment. It is decidedly neat and tasteful, besides being novel, much prettier, I think, than oak. They also show a case made of Oregon curl maple with framework of eastern walnut—a highly finished and beautiful piece of workmanship. Near this stand are a few sets of sitting room and kitchen chairs of domestic manufacture.

MISCELLANEOUS

The Pavilion has filled up to-day till there is no longer room for proper display of goods. All the space devoted to needlework, to the fine arts and domestic manufactures, is literally packed full, and the visitor can scarcely tell where one article begins and another leaves off. Many articles of this sort have sought exhibition elsewhere. This feature of the fair exceeds in variety and excellence anything ever before seen in this State.

Of the floral and the vegetable, grain and seed departments the same may be said. The display of flowers is gorgeous, and that of vegetable such as to make the heart of a gardener leap for joy. The fruit department has also been largely added to to-day.

Mr Meussdorffer of Portland, has a splendid show of hats manufactured by the Meussdorffer Bros of New York, San Francisco and Portland. Meussdorffer is bound to let his light shine so as to be seen of men.

PARADE OF HORSES AND CATTLE

The exhibition of horses to-day was excellent. There were thirty or forty stallions and nearly as many more mares and colts, besides a good sprinkle of mules, jacks, team and carriage horses, etc. Among them all none attracted so much admiration and general remark as a team of clay bank stallions owned by R. B. Hudson of Yamhill, and a Lathlin [illegible] owned by David [illegible] of Multnomah and sired by Pat Smith's stallion. It is the general judgment that it is the handsomest and finest in all points at this fair or perhaps in the State. I heard old horsemen say that they had never seen a finer one of its age.

The cattle show, though there were some fine bulls and handsome calves, was a comparative failure. There seems to be of late much less care in breeding cattle than six or eight years ago.

TRIALS OF SPEED.

The first trial to-day was a walking race of one mile, open to all horses. It was contested by seven entries; but the trial was not very exciting. A little grey horse owned by Joseph Nixon, of Linn county, took the first premium, making the mile in 12 45. This is not good time.

The running race, mile heats, two in three, created the greatest excitement of the fair. The entries were, Mr Ward's grey mare "Snowflake," W. G. Scoggins' sorrel stallion, Jack Minor, and G. J. Basket's horse, "Jeff Davis." The first and second heats were won by "Snowflake" in 1 54 and 1 49½, the horses coming home in the order I have named them.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

To-day the election of officers to serve the ensuing year took place. There was not much contest except for Secretary. Mr Daniel Clark, of Marion, who has done as much perhaps for the advancement of the Society as any other man, was chosen President. The Vice Presidents are B. [illegible] Willoughby of Lane county, and W. A. Mills, of Washington. Secretary, Jno Minto of Marion, editor of the Farmer. Treasurer, John H. Moores of Marion. Directors, C. P. Burkhart of Linn, J. W. Lewis of Clackamas, B. [illegible] Stewart of Yamhill, N. Newton of Benton, John T. Allen of [illegible], A. P. Bacon of Multnomah and [illegible] W. Hunt of Marion.

ENTRIES

The total of entries cannot be exactly ascertained, since not a tithe of the clerk's books, but they are very near 800, of which the greatest number are in the Ladies Department. The horses total number [illegible] agricultural machinery 81, flowers and fruits [illegible].

VARIOUS MATTERS

The attendance to-day is estimated at fully [illegible] and I anyhow think that it was fully as large as any gathering ever upon the fair grounds. The receipts at the gate were about $1,000. Season tickets being only $1.50, nearly everybody buys that sort and the receipts each day show but little more than [illegible] many new tickets have been sold.

There is the old trouble about scarcity of water. The wells are hardly sufficient for the people and so hotels are not to be taken off the ground. All [illegible] to drink. The Society ought by all means to dig as many more wells as they now have.

The filthy and unseemly condition of the ground about the Pavilion and stables still continues to excite universal comment. I have no doubt it will be better next year.

The excellent corps of marshals have thus far had but little difficulty in maintaining good order. There is hardly the usual drunkenness and rioting, and I have heard of no depredations of moment.

A horse [illegible] this morning got frightened and backed against a wagon, got his leg in one of the wheels and was thrown down, tumbling his rider. Getting up the horse ran a short distance and collided with another horse driven to a buggy, with great force, but both animals were instantly killed. Judge [illegible] near by, became frightened and [illegible] around, upsetting the buggy in which the Judge was [illegible] but not seriously.

The Carter Dramatic Company are playing to good audiences at Reed's Opera House. Mr and Mrs Carter are both good delineators of character. Mrs Carter is very popular with her audiences here. Of the other members of the company, Portland readers know as much as I can tell them. They will be down next Tuesday with the expectation of opening at Oro Fino Tuesday evening.

The Case of Collector Steadman and Comments Thereon.—The vague and unsubstantial rumors of official corruption, involving high parties at New Orleans, have taken definite form. General Steadman is charged with defalcations aggregating the enormous sum of $600,000. Though previous hints have been given that the General was not entirely scrupulous and upright, this allegation of tremendous and wholesale villainy will be received by the public with surprise and pain. The case affords material for reflection upon the close alliance between perfidy to principle in the abstract and personal iniquity. Gen. Steadman made a brilliant record during the war. At its close few men stood higher or had fairer prospects for elevation. In an evil hour he was induced by his former Democratic associates to unite in their scheme for sustaining the perfidious Johnson against Congress. The President sent him to New Orleans as a spy upon Sheridan. For his despicable services in that capacity he was appointed to succeed the hero of the Shenandoah in command of the department and proffered the Secretaryship of War. Neither of these places suited him for a reason now apparent—they were not sufficiently profitable. He was then made Collector, and it is now said that during his brief career in that place he plundered the people of more than half a million dollars! What a record to supplant the glorious achievements he had made as a soldier. Probably the robberies of Steadman were perpetrated in co-operation with the whisky ring. His associations in that direction were notoriously bad while he was in office. At last accounts this desperate adventurer was seeking to get off for Cuba in command of a filibustering expedition.—Albany (N. Y.) Evening Journal.

A young lady in one of the rural towns of New Hampshire was desirous of teaching school in a neighboring village and applied to the chairman of the board of selectmen for a certificate of good character, which in due time was furnished, as follows:

"This is to certify that Tamar Noyes stands on a medium with other girls of her age and sex, and for what I know is as good as folks in general."

The "stificate" was satisfactory, and the young lady obtained the school.

A farmer informs us that a great deal of fall [illegible] is being prepared for sowing fall grain and that the ground [illegible] is in much better condition than usual for plowing. The breadth of land sown will be in excess of any former year.

The sales of real estate in this county for the first half of this month amount to $15 3[illegible]

Eggs are now selling in the city at 40 cents a dozen, and scarce at that.

Most fruit of every kind is abundant in this market, and the supply increasing faster than the demand. Some is bound to decay in the stores of dealers. Prices are quite low.

Many Portlanders will return from the Fair to-morrow and when the great show is over business will be livelier, for all of which our merchants will be thankful.

WHEAT.—Upon inquiry of some of the principal dealers in this product in Portland made yesterday we learn that the receipts of wheat in this market so far this season have been lighter than usual at this period of the year. Doubtless much of the delay in putting the crop on market had its cause in the unusually wet weather [illegible] in September, which hindered the work of threshing and marketing. But it is not altogether attributable to that cause. While there has been a loss on account of the rain, of, say 700 000 or 800 000 bushels there is yet a great surplus in the hands of producers who are holding back for a better price than the article has yet commanded this year. At a low estimate there has been raised and saved in Oregon the present season 4 000 [illegible] bushels. Of this 3,000 000 will probably be exported [illegible] of it in flour. A question which very materially affects the farmers is what is the probability of obtaining a price from this surplus which will pay [illegible] From late advices and exchanges from Europe [illegible] countries, there seems but little hope that the prices ruling for the last year or so will be increased. The European wheat market is quoted as full and good [illegible] in all wheat growing countries. Although buyers in this city are only paying at the most [illegible] cents per bushel, and that only for choice they seem by no means anxious to purchase at that price. Those farmers who have large quantities on hand may use the opportunity of getting even so much as should they conclude to hold back for an advance which seems to but little probability of coming.

SALEM NEWS.—The subjoined items are from the States[illegible] of Thursday:

The Incorporators of the Salem & Astoria Railroad were holding a meeting last night.

On Wednesday a man was arrested on the Fair Grounds for disorderly conduct, and brought down to town to be locked up in jail. When the Marshal and his prisoner [illegible] the jail he found no one there to attend to the [illegible] of the place, and so the man was turned loose again.

The receipts at the Fair on Wednesday as reported by [illegible] were as follows: at the gate $1 7[illegible]; at the Pavilion, $450; at the race stand $80; total $2 339 [illegible] previously 4,182; grand total, $6 521.

Sharpers and thieves abound about Salem at this time. [illegible] allowed them to take off his coat in the [illegible] which were greenbacks valuable papers etc. [illegible] morning long before day, a policeman noticed a fire starting under the sash factory behind the [illegible] Hotel, and ran to put it out, when the thief fell [illegible] was enjoying the fire and the originator of it [illegible] ran away leaving behind his pipe hat and a [illegible] of shoes.

[illegible] POLICY.—Under this head the Commercial says:

"We hear that the grocery stores are trying to get [illegible] through the Council to prevent vegetable dealers from peddling in the city. We believe the law provides only for the free sale of State products; and [illegible] it is not policy to have middle-men between the producer and consumer of vegetables. [illegible] standing obtained from those who ought to know is that the object of the organization among the [illegible] of the city is to influence the wholesale [illegible] to cease selling to any but those engaged in trade. We presume if this be their object they will attain it by refusing to buy of those who sell to any but retailers. If the end sought be either of these [illegible] not tend to the advantage of consumers. Especially would it operate as detrimental to the interests of the last [illegible] class, if any such measure should be enacted as to prevent the producer from selling directly to those who [illegible]"

PORTLAND AT THE FAIR.—We learn that Portland is [illegible] represented at the State Fair this year. [illegible] Our hardware and agricultural implement [illegible] have a number of first class machines and implements of various kinds on exhibition. Put Smith's Path [illegible] everything else in the way of [illegible] when it comes to a trotting match while one of the same horse is said to be the finest colt in the [illegible] Our manufacturing interests are also represented by a number of articles made in this city. And [illegible] who are in attendance as spectators there are [illegible] hail from the metropolis of Webfoot. Our latest advices are to the effect that the Fair is passing off well and in every respect successfully though many make the complaint so often heard in former years that too much attention is paid to the subject of horse races and too little to the farming and mechanical interests of the State.

AN OLD DEBT PAID.—Mr R [illegible] Stott of Clackamas county, about two years ago presented a bill to the City Council of Portland for $27 for fees as a witness in city cases tried in the Circuit Court. The services as a witness were rendered in the years 1859-60. When the bill was presented, it was referred to a committee and [illegible] their hands it never came. A few weeks ago Mr [illegible] presented another bill for the same services and at the last meeting the Council ordered it paid. [illegible] for its payment seemed to be that Mr [illegible] would again be needed as a witness on behalf of the city and that his services could not be obtained until he was paid for what he had done.

OREGON EXPORTS.—The following named amounts of [illegible] products were shipped to San Francisco during the first nine months this year as reported in a late review of that market in the Bulletin: Apples 30 149 bxs, butter 508 pkgs, flour 400 7[illegible] sks, [illegible] 3 751; oats 15,098 pkgs; wheat 37 010 sks; wool 3 [illegible] bales. These are the leading articles [illegible] those omitted by that paper make the bulk of products shipped from this port within the time named. The [illegible] articles received from Oregon and [illegible] gives the credit which is due [illegible] State [illegible] and California.

THIEVES.—The Commercial says a number of professional thieves came up on the last steamer from San Francisco and are probably now at the State Fair. From the account of the doings of their [illegible] about Salem we are inclined to give credit to the rumor. These gentry naturally gravitate towards cities of the size of Portland and their presence may be expected here with the close of Fair week. In the meantime we give timely warning that our police [illegible] just the [illegible] for it is very warm for such characters and it might be [illegible] cut [illegible] personal safety to steer clear of this city.

FOR VICTORIA.—The steamer George S. Wright sailed for Victoria at six in the evening. She carried about one hundred and seventy-five tons of freight and the following named passengers: Mrs [illegible] and two daughters, Dr. Semple and wife, Capt George Williams, Dr J H [illegible], Lieut Osgood, Lieut [illegible], Rev A Bra[illegible], W M Harned, Miss Haynes [illegible] Wal[illegible], John Morris [illegible] whose destination [illegible] mentioned go [illegible] San Juan [illegible] holding a court martial on [illegible] Tuesday.

SHOOTING.—From a private letter under date of [illegible] we learn that a man named Lynch of Walla Walla shot his wife at that place last Sunday [illegible] wounding her in the right shoulder severely but not dangerously. [illegible] Jealousy. Lynch was not arrested [illegible] correspondent further says [illegible] District Court will close to-[illegible] [illegible] was, under a [illegible] continued [illegible] a good Judge and holds all [illegible] up to the strict letter of the law.

IN JUSTICE'S COURT.—The man Dr[illegible] charged with stealing 500 [illegible] of Messrs Abrahams & Knox, and arrested at Hillsboro on Wednesday morning was taken before Justice [illegible] yesterday and being arraigned, waived a preliminary examination. Bail in default of bail, which was fixed by the Justice at $1 000 he was ordered confined in the county jail to await the action of the grand jury at its next session which will be in November.

THE TELEGRAPH.—This vessel which was advertised to sail from this place for Victoria to-morrow had not arrived up to the time of going to press.

MEETING [illegible] Emmet Guard [illegible]

A New View of Louis Napoleon

Justin McCarthy in the Outbert[illegible] [illegible] writes: I do not believe there is anything of the sphinx about Louis Napoleon. I do not believe in his profound sagacity or his foresight or his stoical self control. I have grown so heretical that I do not even believe him to be a particularly taciturn man. I am well satisfied that Louis Napoleon is personally good natured good tempered undignified awkward sort of man ungainly of gesture not impressive in speech a man quite as remarkable for occasional outbursts of unexpected and misplaced confidence as for a silence that often is if I may use such an expression purely mechanical and unmeaning. I calmly ask my confrères of the press, is it not a fact that Louis Napoleon is commonly made the dupe of shallow charlatans that he has several times received and admitted to confidential counsel and conference and treated as influential statesmen and accredited ambassadors utterly obscure American and English busybodies who could hardly get to speech of the Mayor of a town at home that he has entered into signed and sealed engagements with impudent adventurers from divers countries under the impression that they could render him vast political service that he has paid down considerable sums of money to subsidize the most obscure and contemptible foreign journals and never seemed able for a moment to comprehend that in England and the United States no journal that can be bought for any price however high is worth buying at any price however low that his personal inclinations are much more toward quacks and pretenders than toward men of real genius and influence that Cobden was one of the few great men Louis Napoleon ever appreciated while impostors and knaves and blockheads, of all kinds, could readily find access to his confidence? Of course a man might possibly be a great sovereign although he had these weaknesses but the Louis Napoleon of journalism is not endowed with these or indeed with any other weaknesses.

Those who know Paris well, know that there is yet another Louis Napoleon there, equally I trust a fiction with him of the journals. I speak of the Louis Napoleon of private gossip the hero of unnumbered amours such as De Gramont or Casanova might wonder at. I have heard stories poured into my patient but sceptical ears which ascribed to Louis Napoleon of to-day adventures illustrating a happy and brilliant combination of Haroun Al Raschid and Lauzun—the disguise of the Caliph employed for the purpose of Don Juan. Now Louis Napoleon certainly had and perhaps even still has his frailties of this class but I reject the Lauzun or Don Juan theory quite as resolutely as the sphinx theory.

What we all do really know of Louis Napoleon is that having the advantage of a name of our passing prestige and at a moment of unexampled chances not created by him he succeeded in raising himself to the throne made by his uncle that when there, he held his place firmly and by maintaining severe order in a country already weary of disturbance and barren of revolution, he favored and stimulated the development of the material resources of France that he entered on several enterprises in foreign politics not one of which brought about the end for which it was undertaken and some of which were ludicrous, disastrous failures. * * * I believe the true Louis Napoleon has a remarkably kind and generous heart that he is very liberal and charitable that he has much affection in him and is very faithful to his old friends and old servants that people who come near him love him much that he is free and kindly in speech that his personal defects are rather that of warm and rash, than of a cold and stern nature. But I think it is high time that we were done with the melodramatic dime romance darkly mysterious Louis Napoleon of the journals. He belongs to the race of William Tell of the Wandering Jew the Flying Dutchman the Sphinx to whom he is so often compared the mermaid the sea serpent Byron's Corsair and Thaddeus of Warsaw.

NOTICE.—There will be a meeting of the workingmen of the city at the Emmet Guard Armory corner of Root and Alder streets this Friday evening at [illegible] o'clock. All persons interested are requested to be present.

THE EQUALIZER!

DR. H. A. BODMAN

HAVING PURCHASED HADFIELD'S EQUALIZER and the Patent Right for Multnomah county would respectfully inform his friends and the public generally that he is prepared to treat fully those Chronic cases on whom all other [illegible] have failed.

Having used this Instrument in connection with his medical practice for about three months, he is satisfied that it will accomplish all that is claimed for it in curing Chronic Diseases. He does not believe in the system of advertising cases cured, but any number of such may be seen on record at his office, consisting principally of Rheumatism Neuralgia, Paralysis, Curvature of the Spine Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Weak Chests, Asthma, Narrow Chests, Weak Lungs, Weak Backs, Weak, Stiff and Rheumatic Limbs, Sciatica, Spasms, Epilepsy, Palsy, St. Vitus Dance, Prolapsus Uteri, Obstructed Menstruation with all their concomitant Diseases, Impotency and all kinds of weaknesses of the Generative Organs. Spermatorrhoea confidently cured in from four to six weeks without medicine.

He uses other remedies when necessary, but the Equalizer generally performs the cure without the aid of any medicines whatever. It brings a greater supply of blood and nutrition to all weak parts, thus creating new life and tone, and health and strength in those parts. It breaks up congestion and inflammation by equalizing the circulation throughout every part of the system.

[illegible] a fair trial and you will be satisfied with the results. It has been examined by thousands of physicians of all Schools of Medicine and there has not been one dissenting voice to the correctness of the principle, and acknowledge that it fills a vacuum in the Science of Medicine.

CAPTAIN HALL'S JOURNEY TO THE ARCTIC REGIONS.

THE FATE OF SIR JOHN FRANKLIN AND HIS MEN—THEIR CRUEL TREATMENT BY THE ESQUIMAUX—INTERESTING ACCOUNT OF CAPTAIN HALL'S SLEDGE JOURNEY TO KING WILLIAM'S LAND—THE RELICS FOUND THERE.

The following letter, addressed by Captain C. F. Hall, the Arctic explorer, to Mr. Henry Grinnell, gives a graphic account of his recent expedition to King William's Land, and of the finding of fresh evidences of the fate of Sir John Franklin and his men:

REPULSE BAY, June 20, 1869.

Henry Grinnell:

DEAR SIR: This day I have returned from a sledge journey of ninety days to and from King William's Land. It was my purpose, and every preparation was made, to make this journey last season; but my attention then having been called to Mellville Peninsula, in the vicinity of Fury and Hecla Straits, where native report had it that white men had been seen, I directed my expedition there by way of Am-i-toke, Oog-lik Isle, Ig-loo-lik, with the ardent hope and expectation of rescuing alive some of Sir John Franklin's last companions. The result of this journey was the finding of a tenting place of a few white men and a stone pillar they had erected close by it at the bottom of Parry Bay, which is some fifty miles south of the western outlet of Fury and Hecla Straits, and the visiting of several places where white men and their traces had been seen by natives of Ig-loo-lik and vicinity in or about the years 1865–7. I also gained much information from the natives of Ig-loo-lik, North Ooglik isle, and thereabouts, that confirmed the report I had heard in the winter of 1867–8, which I have already stated. And still further proofs of this report have been also obtained on my late visit to King William's Land. My sledge journey to the Straits of Fury and Hecla, and thence down to Parry Bay and back to Repulse Bay by the route already defined, consumed ninety-six days.

The result of my sledge journey to King William's Land may be summed up thus: None of Sir John Franklin's companions ever reached or died on Montreal Island. It was late in July, 1848 that Crozier and his party, of about forty or forty-five, passed down the west coast of King William's Land in the vicinity of Cape Herschell. The party was dragging three sledges on the sea ice, which was nearly in its last stage of dissolution—one, a large sledge laden with an awning-covered boat, and the other, a small one, laden with provisions and camp material. Just before Crozier and party arrived at Cape Herschell, they were met by four families of natives, and both parties went into camp near each other. Two Esquimaux men, who were of the native party, gave me much sad, but deeply interesting information. Some of it stirred my heart with sadness, intermingled with rage, for it was a confession that they, with their companions, did secretly and hastily abandon Crozier and his party to suffer and die for need of fresh provisions, when, in truth, it was in the power of the natives to save every man alive. The next trace of Crozier and his party is to be found in the skeleton which McClintock discovered a little below, to the southward and eastward of Cape Herschell; this was never found by the natives. The next trace is a camping place on the sea-shore of King William's Land about three miles eastward of Pfeiffer's River, where two men died and received Christian burial. At this place fish bones were found by the natives, which showed them that Crozier and his party had caught while there a species of fish except for food, with which the sea there abounds. The next trace of this party occurs some five or six miles eastward, on a long, low point of King William's Land, where one man died and was buried. Then about S. S. E., two and a half miles further, the next trace occurs on Todd's Inlet, where the remains of five men lie. The next certain trace of this party is on the west side of the inlet west of Point Richardson, on some low land that is an island or a part of the main land as the tide may be. Here the awning covered boat and the remains of about thirty or thirty-five of Crozier's party were found by the native Poo-yet-ta, of whom Sir John Ross has given a description in the account of his voyage in the Victory, 1829-'34.

In the spring of 1849, a large tent was found by some of the natives whom I saw, the floor of which was completely covered with the remains of white men. Close by were two graves. This tent was a little way inward from the head of Terror Bay.

In the spring of 1861, when the snow was very near all gone, an Esquimaux party, conducted by a native well known throughout the northern regions, found two boats with many skeletons in and about them. One of these boats had been previously found by McClintock, the other was found lying from one quarter to one-half a mile distant, and must have been completely entombed in snow at the time McClintock's parties were there, or they most assuredly would have found it. In and about this boat, besides the many skeletons alluded to, were found many relics, most of them similar in character to those McClintock had enumerated as having been found in the boat he discovered. The native who conducted this native party in its search over King William's Land, is the same individual who gave Dr. Rae the first information about white men having died to the westward of where he (Dr. Rae) then was, (Pelly Bay) in the spring of 1854. His name is In-nook-poo-zhe-jook, and he is a native of Neitchille, a very great traveler, and very intelligent. He is, in fact, a walking history of the fate of Sir John Franklin's expedition. This native I met within one month's sledge journey of King William's Land—off Point Dryden—and after passing a few days among his people, he accompanied me to the places I visited on and about King William's Land.

The same year that the Erebus and Terror were abandoned one of them consummated the Great Northwestern passage, having five men aboard. The evidence of the exact number is circumstantial. Everything about this Northwest Passage ship of Sir John Franklin's expedition was in complete order; four boats were hanging high up at the ship's sides, and one was on the quarter-deck; the vessel was in its winter housing of sail and tent cloth. This vessel was found by the Ook-joo-lik natives near O'Reilly's Island, lat. 68° 30' N., lon. 99° W., early in the spring of 1849, it being frozen in the midst of a smooth and unbroken floe of ice of only one winter's formation. From certain evidence I have gained both at Ig-loo-lik and King William's Land, there must have been a dog of the greyhound species belonging to one or the other of the two ships. I only know this through native testimony. It is quite likely that some one in England can tell whether there was a dog on board either of the ships when Sir John Franklin left in 1845.

To complete the history of Sir John Franklin's last expedition, one must spend a Summer on King William's Land with a considerable party, whose only business should be to make searches for records which beyond doubt lie buried on that island. I am certain from what I have heard the natives say, and from what I saw myself, that little or nothing more can be gained by making searches there when the land is clothed in its winter garb, for the Esquimaux have made search after search over the coast of King William's Land, on either side, from its southern extreme up to Cape Felix, the northern point, for anything and everything that belonged to the companions of Sir John Franklin, and these searches have been made when the snow had nearly all disappeared from the land.

My sledge company from Repulse Bay to King William's Land consisted of eleven souls, all Esquimaux. Although they are as untamable as eagles by nature, yet by their aid alone I was enabled to reach points otherwise inaccessible, and when there to gain much important information relative to the fate of Sir John Franklin's expedition. I tried hard to accomplish far more than I did, but not one of the company would, on any account whatever, consent to remain with me in that country and make a summer search over that island, which, from information I had gained of the natives, I had reason to suppose would be rewarded by the discovery of the whole of the manuscript records that had accumulated in that great expedition, and been deposited in a vault a little way inland or eastward of Cape Victory. Knowing, as I now do, the character of the Esquimaux, in that part of the country in which King William's Land is situated, I cannot wonder at nor blame the Repulse Bay natives for their refusal to remain there as I desired. It is quite probable that, had we remained as I wished, not one of us would ever have got out of the country alive. How could we expect, if we into straitened circumstances, that we should receive better treatment from the Esquimaux of that country than the one hundred and five souls who were under the command of the heroic Crozier, some time after landing on King William's Land? Could I and my party, with reasonable safety, have remained to make a Summer search on King William's Land, it is not only probable that we should have recovered the logs and journals of Sir John Franklin's expedition, but have gathered up and entombed the remains of nearly one hundred of his companions, for they lie about the places where the three boats have been found, and at the large camping place at the head of Terror Bay, and the three other places that I have already mentioned. In the Cove, west side of Point Richardson, however, nature herself has opened her bosom and given sepulture to the remains of the immortal heroes that died there. Wherever the Esquimaux have found the graves of Franklin's companions they have dug them open and robbed the dead, leaving them exposed to the ravages of wild beasts. On Todd's Island the remains of five men were not buried, but, after the savages had robbed them of every article that could be turned to account for their use, their dogs were allowed to finish the disgusting work.

Wherever I found that Sir John Franklin's companions had died, I erected monuments, then fired salutes and waved the Star-Spangled Banner over them in memory and respect of the great and true discoverers of the Northwest Passage. I could have gathered great quantities—a very great variety—of relics of Sir John Franklin's expedition, for they are now possessed by natives all over the Arctic regions that I visited—from Pond's bay to Mackenzie river. As it was, I had to be satisfied with taking upon our sledges about 125 pounds total weight of relics from natives about King William's Land. Some of these I will enumerate: 1. A portion of one side (several planks and ribs fast together) of a boat, clinker built and copper fastened. This part of a boat is of the one found near the boat found by McClintock's party. 2. A small oak sledge runner, reduced from the sledge on which the boat rested. 3. Mast of the Northwest Passage Ship. 4. Chronometer box, with its number, name of maker and the Queen's broad arrow engraved upon it. 5. Two long heavy sheets of copper, three and four inches wide, with counter-sunk holes for screw nails. On these sheets, as well as on most everything else that came from the Northwest Passage Ship, are numerous stamps of the Queen's broad arrow. 6. Mahogany writing desk, elaborately finished and bound in brass. 7. Many pieces of silverplate—forks and spoons—bearing crests and initials of the owners. 8. Parts of watches. 9. Knives, and very many other things, all of which you, Mr. Grinnell, and others interested in the fate of the Franklin expedition, will take a sad interest in inspecting on their arrival in the States.

I must now tell you of the heartrending, tragical part of my expedition before I conclude this rapid, and I must add, incomplete report; for after all it is but a drop in the bucket to giving you a full idea of the vast amount of interesting and important information I have gained of the natives about Repulse Bay, Igloo lik, Pelly Bay, Neitchille, Great Fish, or Back River and King William's Land relative to the fate of Sir John Franklin's expedition. In the spring of 1865, I started from Repulse Bay on a dog sledge journey to King William's Land. My company was entirely of natives, and on our getting about two hundred miles on our way we met a party of Pelly Bay natives who were fleeing from their country on account of "war" raging there. The effect on my company was that on no consideration could they be induced to proceed further, and therefore terrible as was the blow to my plans, I had to turn back, trusting that I could succeed in getting a small band of faithful white men, out of some whale-ship, if they should happily make into Repulse Bay. Not until the fall of 1867 was I able to get the desired number of white men to accompany me, besides my Esquimaux interpreters—Joe and Hannah—as an escort of defence, while making the long delayed sledge journey to King William's Land, and even then, it was only at the last moment—that is, while the whaling vessels were weighing anchors and starting for the States—that I was successful. The result of my taking seamen that neither I or their Captain knew much about, proved as many would expect. One of the men, Frank Lailer, ever proved during the year I employed the party of five men, a most faithful, hard-working and energetic man, fulfilling every position in which I placed him with ability and honor. Two men of the five would, I am quite confident, have proved better men than they did, had they not been ill-advised. None of the men, except noble Frank Lailer, ever accompanied me on any of my great sledge journeys. In the fall of 1868, during a mutinous attack made upon me, when my faithful man was absent about seven miles distant on business, I was compelled, in self-defense, to call into requisition a revolver. Coleman, the leader, fell, and died in fifteen days. At once the rebellion ended, and one of the band came, and like "a man" acknowledged freely and truly that he and his companions were altogether the guilty ones, and hoped I would forgive him, which I did on the instant. I feel that had I not taken this last "dread alternative," my fate would have been quite as sorrowful as that of Henry Hudson.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW HERE

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering from a miserable disease, from the effects of secret indulgences, or from [illegible] into the system. Look at their pallid and disfigured faces, and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of [illegible] or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid disease thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are afflicted with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, [illegible] they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Take them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years. He is certain to cure them without detention from business, or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, and to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing [illegible] in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing [illegible] public by using the names of eminent physicians of Europe and other places. He therefore cautions [illegible] strictly [illegible] charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse, solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is [illegible] by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited [illegible], producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by [illegible] medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. [illegible] not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his [illegible] and safe mode of treating this disease, which [illegible] effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will forfeit Five Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of his complaint by any of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should consider the sacred responsibility resting upon them, and obtain immediate relief.
DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give his patients a written instrument, binding him to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent by mail, registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and of those who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the public. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and too lazy to work at their trades. Some are [illegible] soakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid deception is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets, for, as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive the public by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended [illegible] letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who call at his office of his ability to treat [illegible] he proposes to cure.
Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, (Private Entrance on Commercial), San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.
REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.

THE APPETITE FOR TOBACCO DESTROYED!

LEAVE OFF SMOKING AND CHEWING THE POISONOUS WEED, TOBACCO.

ORTON'S PREPARATION

ESTABLISHED 1866.

One box of Orton's Preparation is warranted to destroy the appetite for Tobacco, in any person, no matter how strong the habit may be. If it fails in any case the money will be refunded. It is perfectly safe and harmless in all cases. It is almost impossible to break off the use of Tobacco by the mere exercise of the will. Something is necessary to assist nature in overcoming a habit so firmly rooted. With the help of the Preparation, there is not the least trouble. Hundreds have used it who are willing to bear witness to the fact, that Orton's Preparation completely destroys the appetite for Tobacco, and leaves the person as free from any desire for it as he was before he commenced its use. The Preparation acts directly upon the same glands and secretions affected by Tobacco, and through these upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing the poison of Tobacco from the system and thus allaying the unnatural cravings for Tobacco. No more hankering for Tobacco after using Orton's Preparation. Recollect it is warranted.
The time taken to allay all desire for Tobacco by the use of the Preparation varies slightly in different persons, the average time being about Five days. [illegible] desire for Tobacco whatever after using the [illegible] Two days.
The Health and Purse of every Tobacco user in the country calls loudly, ABANDON THE USE OF [illegible]

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The following are a few selected from the [illegible] recommendations in our possession:
We, the undersigned, hereby certify that we have used Orton's Preparation for the purpose of [illegible] the appetite for Tobacco, and can assure those who are suffering from this habit that Orton's Preparation will thoroughly destroy the appetite for Tobacco quickly and permanently and without any bad effect upon the health, and without creating an appetite either for the [illegible] any stimulants.

From Samuel Cassidy, Editor Journal & Argus,
PETALUMA, CALIFORNIA, Dec. [illegible]

For about twenty years I had used Tobacco in [illegible] forms and for the past eight years had been an inveterate smoker. Becoming satisfied that the excessive use of this narcotic was seriously [illegible] health, I determined if possible to check myself [illegible] habit. Hearing of Orton's Preparation for [illegible] the appetite for Tobacco, I sent to Portland, [illegible] box of the medicine, which I received through [illegible] on the 11th of November. A month has not [illegible] yet the medicine has effectually relieved me [illegible] craving or desire to use Tobacco in any form. [illegible] Preparation is no more difficult nor unpleasant than to commence chewing gum. I [illegible] [illegible] have the promised [illegible] effect in every instance where it is given a [illegible] Upon that belief and from an honest desire to [illegible] who wish to break away from the slavish [illegible] Tobacco, I [illegible] this testimonial.
